

CARAVAGGIO

By Cecilie Manz 2008

Caravaggio has landed With Caravaggio Table and Caravaggio Floor Cecilie Manz' characteristic pendant lamp has found it's way to the table and to the floor. The new designs complement the swinging pendant lamp when they are in the same room, while at the same time they are elegant design pieces that will always be able to stand alone.

Metallic - but flexible

Both the table lamp and the floor lamp are made of metal with a lacquer finish. The characteristic shade is high-gloss lacquered, while the foot and stand have been given a dull lacquer finish. A flexible tube, which is hidden by the shade, has been mounted on the stand which makes it possible to tilt the shade, and with it the light cone, up to 40 degrees. This function makes the lamps more flexible and functional as light sources, so that they can be used, for example, as working lights. At the same time an exciting asymmetrical look can be achieved when the shade is tilted.

Technical information page 48

[CARAVAGGIO]

